

TOPICALS OVERVIEW & TIPS

Topicals, such as creams and lotions, are applied to the skin for localized pain. Your skin has the largest amount of CB2 receptors in your whole body! The cannabinoids in the topical, like THC and CBD, bind to the CB2 receptors on the skin and cannot pass through the blood brain barrier. This allows local relief with no psychoactive effects.

GREAT FOR

- Pain Relief
- Muscle Soreness
- Tension
- Inflammation

HOW TO USE

Apply a dime to quarter size amount onto the affected area. Rub in, let dry.

TIPS FOR USE

- Store in the refrigerator and apply cold
- Apply a hot compress prior to applying the medication
- Apply a hot compress after the medicine dries
- At first sign of headache or migraine, apply on temples, forehead, behind ears and/or back of neck
- TMJ pain may be soothed by applying along jawline and behind ears